Everything was above par at La Salicorne. [...] We talked a lot to the other tourist and they all agreed that this was the best spot to spend your vacation. We met great people, we ate delicious seafood, we saw amazing landscapes and beaches, we truly couldn't ask for more.

- Charles R, TripAdvisor

La Salicorne is something in between a holiday camp and a health retreat - and it was a paradise for our family! We were on an all-inclusive plan, but although there were several activities available each day, there was no pressure to sign up; the pace was slow and easy.
